-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of Group I, claims 1-15 and 29-37 in the reply filed on July 19, 2004 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).
2. Claims 16-28 and 38-40 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on July 19, 2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC §101

3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

The basis of this rejection is set forth in a two-prong test of:

- (1) whether the invention is within the technological arts; and
- (2) whether the invention produces a useful, concrete, and tangible result.

For a claimed invention to be statutory, the claimed invention must be within the technological arts. Mere ideas in the abstract (i.e., abstract idea, law of nature, natural phenomena) that do not apply, involve, use, or advance the technological arts fail to promote the "progress of science and the useful arts" (i.e., the physical sciences as opposed to social sciences, for example) and therefore are found to be non-statutory subject matter. For a process claim, the recited process must somehow apply, involve, use, or advance the technological arts.

In the present case, claims 1-8 only recite an abstract idea. The recited steps of displaying and creating does not apply, involve, use, or advance the technological arts since all of the recited steps can be performed in the mind of the user or by use of a pencil and paper and pasting it on a computer. The term "computerized" does not obviate this line of reasoning as it is contained in the preamble. These steps only constitute an idea of how to create an advertisement on a storage device, e.g. paper.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-15 and 29-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Matsumoto et al., US 6,763,334.

Matsumoto discloses creating a proposed advertisement for a plurality of products for display upon a computer. Underwood does not specifically disclose the exact phrases template, formats and specifications.

Official Notice is taken that a template, advertising formats and specifications were common knowledge in the web site design art prior to Applicant's filing date.

To have provided a template, advertising formats and specifications for Matsumoto would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art. The motivation for having done such would have been to incorporate common knowledge and extremely well known manipulation of data from business entities. It is noted that Applicant's intended use, e.g. claim 1, line , for a user to create, does not positively recite claim limitations that are given equal weight to positively recited claim language.

6. Further pertinent references of interest are noted on the attached PTO-892.
7. Applicant's Information Disclosure Statement (IDS) has been reviewed. See the attached IDS.
